Conduct a session on “IPR issues of contemporary interest”

Addressed by Neil Wilkof, eminent IP attorney and scholar.

LES India organized a short seminar on :IPR issues of contemporary interest, in association with the Bombay Chamber of Commerce & Industry, at Mumbai. This interactive session on 9th July 2009, was attended by nearly 40 participants including lawyers, in-house counsel, consultants, business executives and academics.

The session was addressed by Neil Wilkof, eminent IP attorney and scholar, from Israel.

Mr Wilkof provided valuable insights relating to :

- Basic considerations in software licenses;
- Licensor perspective; Licensee perspective.
- Software licensing pitfalls;
- Legal implications of open source;

- Cloud computing: what is it and what are the legal implications;
- Third-party use of trademarks;
- Trademark licensing pitfalls.

The session was conducted in the conference room of the Bombay Chamber.
